Course Introduction

The course reviews the English academic writing style commonly accepted worldwide. We will look at it from several levels: from vocabulary to the overall organization of research writing, such as thematic progression. We will analyze and differentiate good research papers from poor ones. For this purpose, students will read a considerable amount of journal and book articles so as to build up a corpus for analysis. We will also discuss several research methods in SLA and the viability of each method. In the end, students will learn how to design viable research and produce good research papers.
