| Course Introduction | This course introduces the study of political life by providing an overview of a discipline described variously as Political Studies, Political Science, Government, or Politics. We will also examine essential concepts such as Governments and Governing, Political system, Regime, Political Ideologies, Democracy, and Political Parties. Since politics affect almost everything we do, the purpose of the course is equally broad: from exposing you to the socio-political world around us, to helping you clarify your own political beliefs and attitudes. |

| Requirement | Active participation in class discussions is welcomed and encouraged. To make these discussions as productive as possible, all course readings should be completed before the class starts. Also, from time-to-time, you may be asked to prepare some comments or questions in preparation for the next class session. Although no one will be penalized for no remarks during class discussions, active participation can have a positive influence on your final grade. Attendance in this course is required. Excessive unexcused absences (more than three) will result in the lowering of your grade for the course. |
