Ir	The goal of the second semester of this course is to help students conduct a research project on their own. The course is composed of four parts. The first part is to let the students come up with a topic for their team. Next, learn to write a good "literature review." Then, design an appropriate method to collect the data. The final part is to guide students in completing the group' s project, writing the thesis, and presenting their findings in a conference setting.
	The correspondences between the course's instructional objectives and the cognitive, affective, and psychomotor objectives. Differentiate the various objective methods among the cognitive, affective and psychomotor domains of the course's instructional objectives.
II./	 I. Cognitive : Emphasis upon the study of various kinds of knowledge in the cognition of the course's veracity, conception, procedures, outcomes, etc. II.Affective : Emphasis upon the study of various kinds of knowledge in the course's appeal, morals, attitude, conviction, values, etc. III.Psychomotor: Emphasis upon the study of the course's physical activity and technical manipulation.
